

MINES IDLE; LEWIS GOES TO COURT

NATIONAL CIO
TO SEEK NEW
WAGE BOOSTSWEEKLY EARNINGS
REDUCED BY RISE
IN LIVING COSTS

BY JAMES P. HACKETT

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 21 (AP)—The National CIO convention called on American industry today to grant "substantial wage increases" this winter to meet advancing living costs but president Philip Murray immediately gave assurance "there is no threat of strikes in the offing."

A 1,300-word resolution adopted by the convention declared industry was "running amok with ever advancing prices" and said it was "imperative that American industry in collective bargaining give substantial wage increases."

Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach told the convention that real weekly earnings of factory workers had declined by 16.6 percent between April, 1945, and September, 1946, because of increases in prices of items the workers must buy.

Schwellenbach suggested, however, that "certain union leaders" might pay attention to the economic "law of diminishing returns," without elaborating on the statement.

War Chest Planned

Murray made it clear in a speech that the CIO would fight for more pay, but said "we're not running around this country with a club in our hands trying to beat the American people into submission."

Just before Murray spoke in support of the wage resolution, which was passed unanimously by 699 delegates, Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, called for a CIO "Common War Chest" of $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 for use by any union in its fight for higher pay.

Other than the general terms of the resolution, there was no indication of just how much a "substantial" wage increase would be. All CIO officials kept mum.

Reuther said in his speech supporting the resolution that the real wages of American workers "depreciated" 20 percent since January, 1945. He told reporters later that figure was not to be interpreted as a springboard for auto workers' demands.

The convention was scheduled to close tomorrow with the election of officers. It appeared certain Murray would be reelected as president and that Reuther would be named one of nine vice presidents.

Soft Coal Strike

Pessimism Causes

Slump In Stocks

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Stocks were dumped overboard in the final minutes of today's market as pessimism over effects of the soft coal walkout became widespread. A number of leading issues lost $1 to around $5 a share.

The flood of selling swamped the stock exchange's ticker service which fell as much as three minutes behind floor transactions for a time.

It was the market's sixth successive declining session, since the coal dispute approached its crisis, but until today's late flurry the pressure of liquidation had been relatively light.

Industrials and some rails were hardest hit.

Truman Goes Down
In Submarine And Fishes Barracuda

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Key West, Fla., Nov. 21 (AP)—President Truman, interrupting his long distance battle with John L. Lewis for a submarine inspection and a fishing expedition, kept silent tonight on John L. Lewis' citation for contempt for the walkout of the nation's soft coal miners.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that Mr. Truman had "no comment" on the Washington action which was another step in the planned procedure agreed upon before the president left Washington Saturday night.

No one would say here how the government hoped to persuade the miners to return to their pits if Lewis is fined or sentenced.

Mr. Truman was out fishing with Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, his chief of staff, when Attorney General Clark telephoned that Lewis and the Mine Workers union had been cited to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt under an order returnable Nov. 25.

The president and all his party will go on an all-day fishing trip tomorrow.

Descends 440 Feet

Using the destroyer USS Stribling, and with the destroyer O'Hare as an escort, the party will fish off the Dry Tortugas for sailfish and Jewfish, barracuda and other game fish from smaller boats that will be taken along.

Ross reported the president's catch as one five-pound barracuda, a grouper and a Spanish mackerel. Leahy caught exactly the same plus a pompano.

President Truman, taking time out from his long distance battle with John L. Lewis, descended 440 feet into the Gulf of Mexico today in a captured submarine of a type with which the Germans hoped to turn the tide of war.

Mr. Truman inspected the new-type submarine whose "chomores" permitted it to breathe while submerged.

He and his party took a four-hour voyage on the submersible, including the deep dive which lasted 44 minutes. Mr. Truman became the first president to descend in a submarine, and he reported he enjoyed the experience.

Upon surfacing, the president watched a destroyer carry out a mock attack on a target 2,000 yards distant, and saw—and felt—depth charges explode. The shock of the underwater explosions were felt plainly aboard the U-boat.

PRISONERS GET
YULE FREEDOM

Amnesty Promised 4,000

Germans Jailed In U. S.

Occupation Zone

Berlin, Nov. 21 (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney disclosed today that "in keeping with the traditional American spirit of Christmas" amnesty will be granted to 4,000 German prisoners, approximately 15 percent of the prison population in the U. S. occupied zone.

He made the announcement at a news conference at which he also said that:

1. Discussions in the Allied Control Council regarding the recent removal of German technicians to the Soviet Union and a proposed four-power declaration disavowing such removals by force are "in a state of suspension," but that he intended to reopen the talks.

2. The Russians have advised American authorities that entry of American newsmen into the Soviet zone will be impossible until after Jan. 1 because of demobilization of Russian troops.

3. The U. S. zone received last month only half of the food imports needed to maintain the official daily ration level of 1,530 calories and it was "difficult to say" whether the ration level can be maintained.

Exceptions to the amnesty will include offenders sentenced under the denazification law of March 5, 1946; offenders sentenced after Dec. 1, 1946; offenders against whom detainer warrants have been filed by other agencies or authorities, and prisoners suffering with infectious or communicable diseases.

Sheet Steel Short;

Hudson Shuts Down

Detroit, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Hudson Motor Car Co. announced today that a shortage of sheet steel will force a one-day suspension of operations Friday.

The approximately 12,000 employees will return to work on all shifts Monday, the company said. Saturday is a non-work day. The shortage forced a half-day shutdown last week.

Cold Wave Warning
Issued In 6 States;
Snowfall Forecast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mass of frigid air overspread most of the midwest Thursday night and the weather bureau issued a cold wave warning for six states.

A storm warning forecasting northwest winds at 40 to 45 miles per hour also was issued for Lake Michigan.

The "overcast weather" moved in from northwest Canada, driving temperatures as low as 23 degrees below zero in Montana and was expected to spread to the Atlantic seaboard by Saturday, in moderate form.

The cold wave warnings were issued for Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and lower Michigan. Temperatures were expected to range from zero in northwest Minnesota to 15 to 20 in northwest Illinois by Friday morning.

The cold already gripped Montana, the Dakotas, Nebraska, northwestern Wyoming, eastern Colorado and northwestern Kansas.

Forecasters said the cold wave would be short duration and that a trend to moderate temperatures would be noted by Sunday.

Meanwhile, considerable snow fell in the northwest, particularly in mountain passes. Heavy falls were recorded in Washington and Idaho, snow was forecast for the Dakotas, Minnesota, northern Wisconsin, and Upper Michigan.

The Pacific northwest was digging out as winter moved eastward.

Heavy snow was general inland in Washington and Oregon. Spokane reported 6.7 inches in a 12-hour period, and Seattle had a six to nine inch snow. Montana's worst snow storm in recent years was subsiding, but temperatures of 20 below were expected there tonight. Only light snow was falling in some parts of Montana, and most highway and air traffic was resuming.

Heavy fog covered much of the east and the Ohio River valley, grounding planes in some places.

DETROIT HUNTER
STILL MISSING

Bloodhounds Aid Search

For John Hawthorne

Near Lake Gogebic

(By The Associated Press)

A 50-man searching party, aided by bloodhounds from La Crosse, Wis., prepared Thursday night to set out at daybreak in another effort to find John Hawthorne, 73-year-old Detroit deer hunter, missing since Monday.

Ontonagon county sheriff Robert E. Davidson said volunteers combed the Lake Gogebic area Wednesday without success and expressed belief the elderly hunter may have perished.

Meanwhile the casualty rate among the state's deer hunters dropped off Thursday, with no new fatalities being recorded. The death toll on the seventh day of the 15-day season remained at 20, nine of these being victims of gunshot wounds.

Six others died in auto accidents while the other five succumbed from natural causes.

Weather bureau forecasters said rain and high winds were prevalent in most of the state's hunting areas today and that sub-freezing temperatures and snow flurries would be fairly general in the region Friday.

The plane, known as the XS1, is not intended as a military craft, the AAF said in a statement, but instead constitutes a piloted flying research laboratory.

It will be used to test the effect of super-speed on aircraft. The plane's range will be only about 100 miles.

If pushed to speeds near its maximum, the heat caused by friction would be hot enough to melt the present windshield, the AAF said, so the test speed will be kept in the neighborhood of 600 miles an hour.

BIG MICHIGAN
AUTO PLANTS
TRIM OUTPUTWARTIME LIGHTING
BROWNOUT MAY BE REVIVED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Curtailed rail service threatened industrial shutdowns and a possible return to the wartime "brownout" of lighting faced Michigan residents today in the wake of the coal strike.

Nearly 20 passenger trains serving the state were ordered canceled only 12 hours after the large-scale miners' walkout began Wednesday midnight. The schedule reductions, effective Sunday midnight, were in compliance with a federal Office of Defense Transportation order to reduce coal consuming passenger train operations by 25 percent.

Steel Situation Bad

Detroit's massive automotive plants and other factories girded for crippled operations expected immediately from steel production cutbacks but ultimately from the coal shortage itself.

General Motors Corp., largest of the car manufacturers, reiterated a statement made before the coal strike that it could be forced to start trimming production within 24 hours after its steel supply was choked off.

The Ford Motor Co. also termed the steel situation most threatening, saying it had enough coal to continue making part of its own steel for three weeks.

Chrysler Corp. said the situation was "too confused" to make any predictions.

At Lansing Governor Kelly said the state would cooperate with federal agencies in any move to eliminate non-essential use of coal during the emergency, and urged consumers to "conserve their supplies carefully."

Utilities Prepared

He said the state public service commission was prepared to authorize utilities to refuse or restrict service to customers, as they were authorized to do during the last coal strike in May.

This order gave full effectiveness to the so-called brownout ordinances adopted by any local community," Gov. Kelly declared, "and the same procedure can be put into effect in short order if it becomes necessary and is requested by the federal government."

The utilities themselves appeared better prepared for the emergency, than most home owners.

Detroit Edison Co. reported a 90-day supply of coal on hand and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. predicted theirs would last until the middle of January. Consumers Power Co. at Jackson said only its coal supply was adequate "for a reasonable period."

Children Revived

After Auto Fumes

Seep Into Home

Royal Oak, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—

Two children were revived by pulmonary after carbon monoxide fumes from a built-in garage threatened the family of Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore of Oakland county.

Judge Moore said he forgot to shut off the motor of his car when he left it in a garage attached to their home.

He was awakened by his 11-year-old son, Eugene, as the latter stumbled and fell while seeking safety. A daughter, Mary, 14, was found unconscious in her bed.

Judge Moore and his wife, Doris, 45, were affected but not overcome and were able to summon aid. The children were treated at Henry Ford hospital and later discharged.

Devers Says Next

War Would Require

Army Of 16 Million

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP)—

General Jacob L. Devers said tonight in a plea for universal military training that should there be a World War III "it would take an eventual army of between twelve and sixteen million men to win it."

This would compare with the army's top strength in 1945 of 3,300,000.

"Our reservoir of trained manpower must therefore be maintained by a continuous infusion of young men," he contended.

WHEAT GOES UP

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wheat futures prices advanced to a 26-cent peak on the Board of Trade today as the bread cereal moved up more than two cents a bushel at times on moderate but persistent buying.

January delivery closed a $2.15 1/2 cents a bushel, a new peak for any delivery since 1920.

Special Session
Of Congress Is Urged In Crisis

BY FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, Nov. 20. (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) telegraphed a plea to President Truman today to reconvene Congress at once to deal with John L. Lewis and "not to yield one iota to this lawless and arrogant labor leader."

Byrd's telegram, disclosure of which followed a statement he issued along the same lines, added to the clamor from both Republicans and Democrats for a special session of Congress.

Rep. Brown of Ohio, a Republican leader, told reporters:

"The president should come back from his vacation and come up and address us."

"If they don't do something about the situation we will all freeze or starve before the Republicans take control of Congress in January."

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) described the situation as one that "comes very close to insurrection." He added in a statement:

1. If the union is successful "and government is proven impotent, then Congress will be forced to clothe the government somehow with sufficient power to meet such a crisis which is likely to curtail freedom of all groups including labor."

2. "Or else government will meet the challenge by smashing not only Mr. Lewis but the United Mine Workers as well."

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) said in a statement that the strike "must immediately be broken through the uncompromising use of every legal instrument in the power of the federal government to protect the general welfare."

Wiley called for presidential appointment of an emergency coal commission, to report recommendations to Congress and the president before the year's end "on machinery to prevent recurrence of the present coal crisis" as well as related problems in the industry.

Blame for the many coal strikes, Wiley said, lies more at the door of "malignant conditions" in the industry rather than on Lewis.

Bevin told Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov of Russia, author of the arms reduction and troop information proposals, that the British government felt the two should be "taken together."

Molotov and the other members of the 54-nation U. N. political committee listened closely as Bevin said:

"If this (Russia's) troops inventory resolution now before the committee) is taken as a single contribution, we cannot accept it, but we will go along if the whole thing is taken together."

Declaring in his first speech to an assembly body in the United States that his government wanted the task to be comprehensive, Bevin added:

"I want to remind this body that Hitler had no troops outside Germany but that did not stop Hitler from building an army which nearly brought the world down. So I ask in all solemnity that instead of taking it on the narrow point now asked by Mr. Molotov the committee should vote to take it together with disarmament."

Hidden Diamonds

Located In Japan

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—

Diamonds worth $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 hidden by Japanese armed forces before the occupation have been uncovered in Japan, Gen. Douglas MacArthur notified the war department today.

They are now in the vaults of the Bank of Japan to be disposed of eventually in accordance with agreements of the Allied powers.

Escanaba Trains

Off In Coal Pinch

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—

More railroads announced tonight curtailment of passenger train service effective at 12:01 a. m. (SCT), Monday, November 25, in compliance with the government's 25 percent coal-saving order.

The Chicago and North Western Railway Company, which earlier had announced temporary discontinuance of several trains on its Wisconsin, Milwaukee and Galena divisions, said it also would discontinue these:

No. 107—Chicago to Milwaukee.

No. 160—Milwaukee to Chicago.

No. 244—Green Bay to Milwaukee.

No. 121—Menominee to Escanaba (will operate south of Menominee).

No. 224—Escanaba to Menominee (will operate south of Menominee).

No. 421—Green Bay to Menominee.

No. 501—Elroy, Wis., to Mankato, Minn.

STEEL MILLS
TO CLOSE BY
NEXT MONDAYTROOPS READY TO KEEP ORDER IN COAL FIELDS

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—

A federal court cited John L. Lewis on a contempt charge late today but he made no slightest move to call off the strike of 400,000 soft coal miners.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough of the federal district court here issued the citation. It ordered Lewis to appear Monday morning and show cause why he and his union should not be punished. If convicted after a trial, the union might be fined and Lewis sent to jail, to stay until he yields.

Capitol Dome Dark

If the strike continues until then—and there was nothing to indicate tonight that it would not—steel mills will be closing down, railroads curtailing their service and crippling effects will begin to be felt throughout the country.

Already a "brownout" had been ordered in Washington, the seat of government, including the darkening of the Capitol dome.

One report of strike violence came at the end of the day from Welch, W. Va. L. J. Brindley, prosecutor's investigator, said two union officials were shot as they tried to induce the operator of a small mine to close it. Officials have said that troops will be sent into the coal fields if necessary to maintain order.

With the show-cause order for the contempt action, the government sought to carry out President Truman's instructions for a fight to the finish against Lewis, but no showdown appeared imminent.

No Immediate Penalty

Even Monday's contempt hearing will bring no immediate penalty upon Lewis. If Justice Goldsborough finds then "that the alleged contempt be not sufficiently purged"—in other words, if Lewis does not call off the "contract termination" notice which led to the walkout—he will give Lewis a trial on Wednesday. A special jury will be empaneled which will have powers only to advise the judge. The jurist himself will decide Lewis' guilt or innocence, and mete out any penalty.

The contempt action is directed against the AFL-United Mine Workers Union as well as Lewis personally.

The government, in its brief, contended that they "have willfully, wrongfully and deliberately disobeyed and violated" Justice Goldsborough's order of Monday directing that the contract termination which sprang the walkout be called off.

Lewis, in his suburban Alexandria, Va., home, still said nothing.

Two United States marshals took the order as soon as it was signed to the headquarters of the UMW here for service. C. Michael Kearney, chief deputy marshal, said Lewis would have to be served within the District of Columbia. Service at his home in nearby Alexandria, across the line in Virginia, would not be valid because the action is a civil proceeding.

HOUSING GRANT OF RFC ARGUED

Loan Of $52,000,000 For

Chicago Plant Not Good

Business, Says Official

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—

Deputy Housing Administrator Joseph H. Rauh testified today that a $52,000,000 RFC grant which his agency seeks for the Lustron Corp. is "not a good business loan" unless "we want to get houses now the way we wanted to get tanks during the war."

If so, he said the loan should be granted, despite other considerations, to enable the company to make prefabricated vitreous enamel housing. If not, he added, "let's quit kidding ourselves."

Rauh was one of several housing officials who appeared before a Senate war investigating subcommittee to argue that the surplus Dodge-Chrysler plant in Chicago should go to Lustron.

Standing in the way, however, is the rival claim of Preston Tucker, designer of the "Tucker Torpedo" rear-engine automobile, for the same plant.

John J. O'Brien, deputy administrator of the War Assets Corporation, backed up Tucker's claim of prior rights, testifying that the motor maker has a valid lease contract, although an earlier one was cancelled after it proved unsatisfactory to both signers.

The new contract, effective next March, calls for payment of $600,000 annual rental for the first two years, and $2,400,000 a year or three percent of gross sales, whichever is larger, during the next eight years. O'Brien said he believes the new contract would net the government more in the long run.

Four Detroiters

Saved As Cruiser

Hits River Stump

St. Louis, Nov. 21 (AP)—

Four persons were rescued and their cabin cruiser beached today by the Coast Guard cutter Goldenrod shortly after the cruiser hit a stump in the Mississippi river, 20 miles north of here.

The four persons were listed by the Coast Guard as M. A. Clausen and his wife, Layne Gann and Clarence Tvo, all of Detroit. They were traveling from Detroit to New Orleans. Clausen was listed as owner of the cruiser, the Maureen.

GOVERNMENT ENDORSED

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—The House of Commons gave Britain's Labor government a vote of confidence in its domestic policies tonight, rejecting by a vote of 333 to 188 a Conservative amendment protesting further nationalization of the nation's major industries.

CITY EMPLOYEES GET PAY RAISE

$7 Per Month Granted To Cover Increase In Living Cost

Acting on a recommendation of the Escanaba civil service commission, the city council last night approved pay raises for city employees of $7 per month, effective Nov. 1, to cover increases in the cost of living.

The $7 per month increase is in addition to previous cost of living pay boosts made since 1942, and brings the total increase to $40 per month in pay boosts since that time.

Cost of the latest increase to the city will be $1,050 per month. The employees union had requested an increase of $17 per month retroactive to July 1, 1946. The matter was considered by the civil service commission and its recommendation to the council for $7 a month increase was approved, together with certain other recommendations.

Other matters before the council included: Approval of a recommendation by the members of the Escanaba Municipal Band that Albert L. Shomoto, Escanaba, be appointed band director to fill a vacancy created following the resignation of Frank Karas. The council authorized the manager to make the appointment.

Authorized the city manager to advertise for bids for the sale of a used addressograph, a batch hopper for mixing concrete, and a pump from the water station. None of the equipment is needed by the city.

James Smith Hurt In Car Accident

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of 940 North 18th street were injured about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday in a traffic accident at the west end of Memory Lane on US-241. Mr. Smith, 57, a captain in the Escanaba fire department station No. 2, suffered a crushed right knee and is expected to be hospitalized for some time.

Mrs. Smith suffered a shoulder injury and returned to the hospital yesterday for x-ray examination.

The accident occurred when the Smith car, in which they were returning from Schaffer where they had visited relatives, was struck in the rear by another auto, and then crashed into a tree.

Corn Dehydrator Would Be Useful

Washington—Corn farmers in the Midwest, where they are having to crib their grain with far too much moisture in it, could very profitably use right now—if it were only available—a corn dehydrator on which U. S. patent 2,410,851 has just been granted here to Albert B. Welty of Moline, Ill.

Corn cribbed as damp as it is at present is apt to heat in storage and spoil later on. Moist corn offered to buyers at drier-equipped town elevators has to be sacrificed at a reduced price. Better, reasoned Mr. Welty, for farmers to be able to dry their own corn and command their own market.

His machine is a box-like body, on wheels for portability, containing an oil-fired furnace with a series of conduits and elevators to move the corn at slow speed while the heated air drives off its excess moisture. A gasoline engine mounted up front powers the elevators, also a blower to exhaust the moist air.

Patent rights have been assigned to the International Harvester Company.

MacArthur Speeds Purge To Eliminate Japanese Jingoists

Tokyo, Nov. 21 (AP)—General MacArthur today gave the slowly tottering Zaibatsu (family-owned monopolies) an impatient push with a new ultra-nationalist purge embracing Japan's top wartime financiers, industrialist and journalists.

At least 10,000 of the country's highest paid men were expected to be eliminated from this fourth purge. It will send the total of displaced jingoists to more than half million.

Today's order followed within three weeks an embrace cleaning of rural officials which was expected to oust between 250,000 and 400,000. Two earlier purges in the central government tossed out 186,000.

Baby And Brothers Burn To Death As Mother Fights Fire

Morrisville, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—A baby and his two young brothers burned to death today as their mother tried to fight through flames to reach them.

An oil stove explosion started the fire which engulfed the children's bedroom and drove back 22-year-old Mrs. Erna Daniels.

The dead children were William Daniels, six months; Mark Jr., two, and Raymond, three. Another brother, Ronald, four, escaped unhurt.

Council Votes To Reopen North Side Fire Station

After a sometimes heated discussion concerning the causes which brought about the closing of No. 2 fire station in North Escanaba, about 75 North Escanaba residents heard the city council last night vote unanimously to have the station reopened.

The station has been closed for about three weeks, first because of a breakdown of the fire truck, and later because the city manager recommended that a "test" be conducted to determine whether there would be any loss in fire protection for that section of the community.

The closing brought an immediate reaction from North Escanaba residents. Petitions were circulated and were signed by several hundred residents and presented to the council asking that the station be reopened.

Mayor Marvin Coon last night told the delegation of men and women from North Escanaba that the council had considered closing the station, and that the manager had said there would be a saving of $3,000 or $4,000 a year. The petitions indicated the North Escanaba residents wanted the station to continue, and residents of other sections of the city apparently did not oppose its reopening, he added. The council, therefore, would agree to the wishes of the people, he said.

Councilman Peter N. Logan, North Escanaba resident for 23 years, said that he was "for the station being open if the people wanted it," and defended himself against what he said were attacks against him because he refused to sign the petitions. He said that as a councilman he refused to do so, and that the matter was for the council as a whole to decide.

Persons in the audience participated in the debate and cited the need for maintenance of the station. It was suggested that the force at No. 2 station be increased, and that periodic inspections be made to prevent future equipment breakdowns such as that which first caused the first closing of the station.

Councilman Logan charged that the differential in the fire truck had not been greased, causing the breakdown. This was denied by George Erdman, one of the truck drivers at No. 2 station. Mayor Coon said that the council would ask the city manager to determine the cause of the equipment failure, which occurred during a test run.

Mayor Coon brought out the point that the crew of No. 2 station had returned there after the truck was repaired despite orders of the city manager not to move back until he gave the order to do so.

"When the manager tells anyone what to do they must obey his orders," Mayor Coon explained. "Things will work more smoothly as soon as the employees get that into their heads. If an employee directly disobeys his orders it is enough to bring his discharge."

The motion to instruct the city manager to reestablish No. 2 station was made by Councilman Logan, supported by Councilman Victor Nelson and received unanimous approval.

Star Negro Athlete Convicted Of Rape In Detroit Court

Detroit, Nov. 21 (AP)—An all-white jury, after only three minutes' deliberation, today convicted former star Negro athlete Guy Brown on a rape charge.

Brown, 22, voted "athlete of the year" in 1945 at the University of Detroit, was found guilty of attacking a 21-year-old white woman theater cashier the night of Aug. 28.

The jury of ten women and two men began their deliberation at 9:28 a. m. The foreman knocked on the jury room door at 9:31 a. m., indicating a verdict had been reached. The decision was one of the speediest ever made in recorder's court.

Judge O. Z. Ide referred Brown to the probation department and psychiatric clinic for examination and report and set Nov. 27 for sentencing. Maximum penalty on the charge is life imprisonment.

BUCK HAS 29 POINTS

Saint John, N. B., Nov. 20 (AP)—A 29-point buck, weighing more than 300 pounds, was shot at Beccolgan yesterday by David E. Mann, Jr., of Needham, Mass.

The buck, estimated to be about 15 years old, had six more points on its widespread antlers than the previously record-sized buck shot in this district.

Statistics show that in any given country suicide is more frequent in the hotter months of the year.

CANADA BARS PAPER MILLS

Quebec Premier Claims Expansion Has Gone Far Enough

Ottawa—Maurice Duplessis, premier of Quebec, in general is opposed to the establishment of new pulp and paper companies in his province.

In a speech Saturday at the opening of a new mill of International Plywood, Ltd., a subsidiary of Canadian International Paper Co., at Gatineau, Que., near here, he expressed the policy of his government:

"I have offers from three powerful financial syndicates who wish to build pulp and paper mills in the Province of Quebec which would entail $35 million in investments."

"We will not accept their proposals because at present, except perhaps in the timberland area in the north, there are enough of these mills in Quebec."

"I am not in favor of temporary prosperity based on permanent disaster."

"The folly of over-production which was made in the thirties will not be repeated."

Mr. Duplessis did not identify the syndicates, but they are understood to be American. He said also he was opposed to the export of pulp because he wanted the full return from paper manufacture to benefit Quebec. His remarks were similar to those he made at a speech in Quebec City November 7 when he said:

"If we were to allow newspaper owners and publishers to have wood limits or to own paper mills, it would not help the upkeep of freedom of speech and of the press in the province, but would hamper it by giving ownership the possibility of controlling the paper industry and newspaper markets."

"There are a number of firms which need new concessions, and they shall have them; but I say beware of those who speculate on limits to be given certain companies because the government will not allow the province's forests to serve foreign interests."

Ukrainian Delegate To United Nations Is Shot In Holdup

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Dmitri Manulsky, Soviet Ukrainian delegate to the United Nations, tonight termed "political" the shooting today of a fellow delegate during a delicatessen holdup but New York's police commissioner expressed belief no such motive was involved.

Manulsky, at U. N. committee session at Lake Success, made his statement to newsmen and declared that he planned to "take action."

He declined to elaborate, however, as to just why he regarded the shooting, in which Gregory Stadnik, 42-year-old Ukrainian delegate, was shot in the right thigh, as a political incident or what he intended to do about it.

Earlier, police commissioner Arthur W. Wallender termed the affair as merely "a stickup" and said "it was no political plot."

Stadnik, taken to a hospital, where his condition was reported not serious, was shot as he and another Ukrainian, A. D. Viona, entered the store just as the two men were fleeing after a holdup which netted $150.

STEEL MILLS TO CLOSE BY NEXT MONDAY

ing, Kearney explained.

No Work In Pits

It appeared that the crippling mine walkout could continue into next week unless Lewis yields in the meantime or the government finds further measures to take. It costs the nation an estimated 2-200,000 tons of soft coal a day. It began on the dot today following the terms of Lewis' announcement of the contract termination.

The 400,000 miners stayed home. The American flag—symbol of federal possession—flew over the pits, but nothing stirred. Even 7,500 of the anthracite miners quit, although no question has been raised about their contract still being in force.

Already far-reaching effects of the walkout were being felt throughout the nation, coal-dependent steel being the first big industry to react.

Furnaces Banked

Four blast furnaces were banked at East Chicago, Ind., two of them at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. plant and two at the Inland Steel Co. mill. Youngstown Sheet and Tube said also that it would close five of seven blast furnaces and 14 of its 22 open hearth furnaces at Youngstown before Monday if the stoppage continues reducing its steel operations there to 60 per cent of normal. The plants employ 14,000. Inland said its producing capacity was cut from 100 to 85 per cent.

At Cleveland, the Republic Steel Corp. announced it had cut operations to 65 per cent of normal, which would mean loss of 150,000 tons production in a month. At the corporation's Youngstown, O., plant, four blast furnaces and seven open hearths were to be closed.

Bethlehem Steel Co. said production would be "curtailed" over the week-end and that "drastic" cuts would be made next week if the strike continued.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. announced a three-week coal supply on hand at its Gary, Ind., plant and said it planned to make no changes before the "first or middle" of next week. The Reynolds Metal Co. of Gary said it would have to shut down within a week.

New Demands Presented

Spokesmen for major steel companies said no curtailment had been ordered in the Pittsburgh area in the 24 hours since miners decided their contract with the government was void.

It was Lewis' letter to Secretary of the Interior Klug on Nov. 13 saying that his union "hereby terminates" its contract with the government "as of 12:00 o'clock p. m., midnight, Wednesday, Nov. 20, 1946," that signalled the walk-out, without further word or deed of his.

Lewis, claiming the right to reopen the contract of last May in which he won a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour, a five-cent a ton levy for a health and welfare fund, and other concessions, presented new demands last month.

These were reported to include a 100 per cent increase in the welfare fund levy and a new wage increase so that miners could earn as much in 40 hours as they now would get for working 54 hours a week—about $75.

The administration told Lewis it could not grant these concessions—that he should bargain with the mine owners for them. The government agreed to continue operating the mines for two months more at most while the negotiations proceeded. The operators agreed to talk with Lewis under this plan. But Lewis turned it down.

Incendiary Burns Lumberyard And Home In Missouri

Mayview, Mo., Nov. 21 (AP)—The wave of incendiaryism in the central Missouri, which has burned up $125,000 worth of property within the past two months, reached Mayview today with the fiery destruction of a lumber yard and a home.

Both fires followed the pattern of other suspicious outbreaks in eight towns located in a 50-mile area. All were believed by the state highway patrol to be the work of an arsonist gang.

The first blaze today burned to the ground the home of Miss Addie Pluckett, a school teacher, who estimated the loss at $3,000. A half hour later fire destroyed the Mayview lumber yard, with a loss company officials set at more than $40,000.

Since the last of September unexplained fires have broken out in Higbee, William, Wakenda, Laclede, Glasgow, Dalton, Brunswick and Higginsville. The most recent fire was the serious damage of the Immanuel Lutheran church at Higginsville last Sunday morning.

In several instances homes were burglarized while volunteer firemen fought blazes in the small towns.

New Government In Romania To Be Organized By Reds

Sofia, Nov. 22. (AP)—Communist leader Georgi Dimitrov, former general secretary of the Communist International and holder of the Order of Lenin, tonight was entrusted with the task of forming a new Bulgarian government. The Communist party won 247 seats in last month's parliamentary election—more than any other party in the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front coalition which gained a total of 364 of the 465 assembly seats.

These were reported to include a 100 per cent increase in the welfare fund levy and a new wage increase so that miners could earn as much in 40 hours as they now would get for working 54 hours a week—about $75.

The administration told Lewis it could not grant these concessions—that he should bargain with the mine owners for them. Board Of Canvassers Deny Jensen's Charge Of "Irregularities"

In a signed statement addressed to the Escanaba Daily Press, the Delta county board of canvassers yesterday denied a charge of "irregularities" made by Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba Republican, in his petition asking for a recount of the ballots for representative in the legislature.

Jensen was defeated by a 43-vote margin by Violet Patterson, Democrat, on the basis of official election returns.

The petition for a recount was addressed to Myles Gray, clerk of the house of representatives, and a copy was filed at the county clerk's office in Escanaba.

The statement of the Delta county canvassing board is as follows:

TO THE OWNERS AND PUBLISHER OF THE ESCANABA DAILY PRESS

Dear Sir:

Saturday, November 16, your paper carried an account of a petition filed challenging a recount of votes conducted by the Delta County Canvassing Board.

Your Delta County Canvassing Board composed of John Wolf, Escanaba, Chairman; J. F. Richardson, Gladstone, and Edward LaMotte, Sr., Garden, desires to issue the following statement:

The Board of Canvassers of the County of Delta made no alterations whatsoever in the tallies in the returns from either of the six precincts named in your newspaper account, numbers 1 and 4 in Gladstone, numbers 3 and 4 in Escanaba, and in Brampton and Fairbanks Townships.

In canvassing the returns from precinct four - of Gladstone, the Board of Canvassers at no time removed ballots from the ballot box or did they examine the ballots for irregularities and defects. The ballots were at all times handled by the precinct Board of Inspectors and any ballots rejected for irregularities were so rejected by the Precinct Board.

It is true that the Board of Election Inspectors of the Gladstone 4th Precinct brought with them to the Courthouse to Escanaba certain papers and work sheets which had not been contained in the ballot box but these papers and work sheets were not at any time considered by the Delta County Canvassing Board in arriving at their decisions. These papers were merely produced to explain to the Canvassing Board the manner in which the votes had been tallied.

The Board of Canvassers also wishes to call to your attention that any alterations or corrections made in the books of statement of votes were made in each and every instance by the Elections Inspectors of the various precincts who were called by the Canvassing Board for that purpose.

Bark River, Mich.—Dr. Melvin Johnson, of the Delta County Health Department addressed the Bark River Parent Teachers Association Thursday evening at their regular meeting. He gave a very interesting and detailed talk on Polio, its symptoms and methods of cure, and how the Medical Profession have spent hours and hours in research work to find some way to check this virus which is so deadly.

He also mentioned what the State is doing in bringing the Mobile Unit for chest X-rays in stamping out tuberculosis.

A reading was given by Mrs. B. R. Erickson followed by group singing.

A delicious lunch was served at the close of the meeting, by Mesdames Harold McNaughton, Ben Douglas and Bert Paquette.

Club 314

FOR several years Escanaba youngsters sought the establishment of a local youth center, a place separate from the schools where youth could meet in a social program of their own planning.

That objective was achieved late last season when the city recreation building on So. 14th street was converted into a youth center. The club took firm root, despite some deficiencies of the facilities. Encouraged by the start made last season, the city recreation department has completed the remodeling of the former recreation building into a completely modern youth center.

Although the youth club, named Club 314 because it is centered at the corner of Third avenue and So. 14th street, is operated on a membership basis, membership is open to all youth in the city between the ages of 14 and 20. The entire program is directed by youth committees under the supervision of the city recreation department.

This is the community's answer to the insistent and understandable demand by Escanaba youth for a social place all its own, amid pleasant surroundings. The job now is to encourage all youngsters in the city who qualify for membership to participate in the program. In this way the club can operate as an effective weapon against juvenile delinquency, at the same time making a substantial contribution to the betterment of youthful social life in Escanaba.

The program is one that deserves the encouragement and support of all Escanaba parenthood.

Poor Street Lighting

MANY traffic accidents and crimes can be attributed to the inadequate lighting of city streets.

During the past year, more than 25,000 persons were killed in night-time traffic. Not all these fatalities occurred on city streets, of course, but it will be found in a study of statistics that a goodly percentage of them took place at poorly-lighted street intersections.

During the past few weeks, a number of Escanaba women have been molested at night by unidentified men. These incidents have occurred usually in darkened streets.

Inadequate illumination of streets for safe visibility was rapidly being corrected in American cities up to 1941. The war interrupted widespread street lighting modernization programs which cities had begun throughout the country in the interests of public safety. These relighting programs should now be resumed.

Dollar Is Cheap

WE USED to say that the dollar does not go very far at the grocery store, but when purchasing power of our medium of exchange is discussed now the lone silver dollar does not enter into the picture. It's the five dollar bill or the 10 spot that has a short stay in the shopper's hands.

Government economists have announced that the purchasing power of the dollar has dwindled to 69 cents from 1941 to mid-September of this year. That was two months ago, and it is doubtful whether the statisticians can keep up with the drop in the dollar's real value.

Prices of butter now range from 90 to 95 cents. The high cost of living is getting higher. There is some consolation, however, to be derived from the knowledge that "what goes up must come down—someday."

New Luxury Landliners

SOME very classy new busses are going into commission down east, and upper Michigan may see a few of them some day.

The new models are built with a view to greater passenger comfort, especially in the matter of seating. Not that even a three-position reclining seat can ever replace a good bed, but long trips are not going to be so painful in these new vehicles, as they were in the old busses a few years ago. The seats have better cushions, there is more leg room, and good high footrests. Many of the new coaches have individually controlled and focused lights which enable the passenger to read at night without disturbing others.

Heating and ventilating systems are better, and bigger, wider windows give even the aisle passenger a better break. Overhead racks are larger and handier, with more room for coats, handbags, hats and small packages. Diesel power, hydraulic drive and other mechanical improvement provide more economy per passenger-mile and more riding comfort. The new busses can take the hills without gear-shifting, and they are faster on the straightaway.

Several eastern routes are building their own places for rest stops—installations which they can control 100 per cent. They are doing away with some so-called facilities that have been notoriously dirty and congested, and that have been serving the worst kind of food. Not all such rest stops have been on that order—far from it—but the companies are going to make sure that possible sources of complaint are removed by planning modern and comfortable inns and post houses.

Long bus trips have been dreaded and often avoided by travelers up to now, but these improvements should take some of the curse out of extended journeys by bus. Maybe some of these modern busses can be placed on Upper Peninsula runs very soon.

Peace Terms for Japan

FUNDAMENTALLY the plan drawn by Edwin Pauley, reparations commissioner, for the determination of Japan's postwar economy will be accepted by a majority of Americans.

The major principles of the Pauley plan are in accord with the generally accepted American viewpoint. First of all, the plan rejects the use of Japanese for forced labor. This in sharp contrast to the situation in Europe, in which the Russians, French and even the British have taken thousands of Germans into legalized slavery.

Secondly, while the report does not exactly say so, it does imply that extensive confiscation of Japanese industry in Manchuria by the Russians shall be charged off against Soviet reparations claims.

A third provision of the plan provides for the complete elimination of Japanese war-making industries, including synthetic rubber, aluminum and magnesium plants, as a guarantee that Japan will never again be in a position to draw a sword across the Far East.

The plan further provides for the maintenance of sufficient non-warlike Japanese industries to permit that nation to exist on a self-sustaining economic basis.

Undoubtedly the plan will find plenty of opposition from other countries, particularly Russia, but the American commission should never permit other Allied Nations to lose sight of the fact that it was the power and might of the United States that brought Japan to her knees, virtually without help from any of her Allies. We have earned the right to draw the peace treaty on our terms.

ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY (Milwaukee Journal)

The Great Lakes Outlook, organ of the Great Lakes Harbors association, tells us that one Wisconsin manufacturer this year has made his third shipment of trucks to Europe via the St. Lawrence river route.

The trucks moved in the comparatively small Norwegian ships that can navigate the river at this time, even without the proposed seaway improvements.

The manufacturer points out that the shipments to Europe not only have proved most satisfactory from an export standpoint, but that imports of pulpwood for the Wisconsin paper mills, for example, satisfactorily can be made in the same ships.

Of course this limited trade can be carried on. But hundreds of other vessels would move down the river following development—with automobiles, lumber, farm crops, a thousand items. Imports, such as crude rubber, would move to us at a great transportation saving.

The Outlook feels that the new congress will show added seaway supporters in both the senate and the house. If so, the endless debate and delays concerning the seaway may come to an end and action may be taken.

It ought to be taken. How can anybody argue that some 50,000,000 people in the middle western states should not get the benefit of direct water connections with both our own eastern seaports and foreign ports? Why these long overland hauls must be continued is beyond understanding.

The seaway issue ought to be speedily and favorably settled by the congress that convenes in January. There is no need for further long hearings or debate. Every fact and view concerning this project has been presented to past congresses during their years of deliberations.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN? (Scrapbook Item)

Bowling Green: Please do us baseball fans a good turn by giving us the origin of the term "southpaw" for a left-handed pitcher.—W. H. H.

Answer: The term was coined by some clever but unknown (to me) sports-writer twenty-odd years ago, when all games were played during the afternoon.

Playing fields were customarily laid out from west to east, with the grandstands facing east so that the afternoon sun would not glare into the spectators' faces.

Now a left-handed pitcher facing home plate also faces due west, or approximately so. His right shoulder points toward the north, and his left toward the south. He pitches, therefore, with his south paw.

Southpaw is but one of the hundreds of colorful and typically American idioms which have come from the ingenious minds of sports writers and ball players. How could anyone improve on such admirable Americanisms as, bleachers, seventh-inning stretch, grandstand play, bush league, bean ball, shutout?

St. Paul: How did the woman's coat, the redingote, get its name?—Mrs. P. D. G.
Answer: The word was discovered by American clothes stylists some years ago in France. They brought the word to America, the while uttering glad cries: "Ah, redingote! Beautiful . . . continental . . . exotique . . . glamorous! The American 'modom' will love it!" And she did.

What they did not know is that redingote is a French corruption of the English "riding coat." Long ago, when the World Events Analyzed

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—One of the amazing things about John L. Lewis is the coal miners' current loyalty despite Lewis' tyrannical rule and despite the fact that he has waged bitter, relentless war against mine groups which dared question his authority.

One case was his ouster of John L. Lawson, hero of the Colorado miners, as described in an earlier column. More recent and much bloodier was Lewis' battle with the progressive mine workers which ended with 21 Illinois miners killed, several hundred shot and thousands beaten.

Most significant revelation of all is the fact that Lewis on occasion has spent as much as $350,000 of miners' dues without their permission or advance knowledge to pay a coal operator to close down, thus forcing 500 miners out of work.

Lewis and the inner mine workers bureaucrats have complete control over the union's tremendous bankroll. They can buy office buildings in Washington, contribute $500,000 to a political campaign, put members of the Lewis family on the payroll, or pay a mine owner to close his mine, all without asking dues-paying miners what they think about it. All semblance of democracy inside the United Mine Workers long ago was thrown overboard.

—LEWIS' RAWEST DEAL—

Those who know Lewis consider his use of union dues to pay a mine owner to close down as about the rawest thing he has ever pulled.

The facts leaked out when the treasury department conducted an income tax probe of John L. Lewis and almost moved to indict him.

On May 12, 1937, the Mine B Coal Company at Springfield, Ill., closed down and remained closed until November, 1939. During this time Lewis paid the mine operator, Carl Elshoff, around $350,000 as compensation to remain closed.

The reason Lewis wanted to close Mine B was to throw his hated rivals, the Progressive Miners, out of work. Around 500 miners had been employed by Elshoff and when the National Labor Relations Board held an election, the vote was 404 to 25 against joining Lewis' union.

Following this overwhelming defeat, Lewis got Mine B to close, and the Progressive Miners found themselves out of jobs. That was their reward for voting against him.

The amazing fact that Lewis paid out more than a quarter of a million dollars of mine-workers' dues to close down a coal mine came to light when treasury inspectors noted the $350,000 payment to Elshoff in the Lewis-United Mine Workers' income tax statement. Lewis carefully covered himself by chalking this up as a "loan."

The treasury, however, did not view it in this light and was about to start income tax prosecution when advisers warned that this would only make Lewis a martyr and that a jury probably would not convict. In the end, plans for prosecution were dropped.

—HOW LEWIS WON SUPREMACY—

This is only one page in one of the blackest chapters of ruthless Lewis warfare, with John L. virtually telling the justice department what to do. Scene of the battle was the Illinois coal fields, right in Lewis' own bailiwick. Perhaps it was personal pride which made him determined to come out on top with the miners close to his home at Springfield. Perhaps also it was because these miners knew Lewis well that they fought him so bitterly.

The battle lasted the best part of a decade. It began in 1929 when John Walker was president of the Illinois Federation of Labor and Harry Fishwick was president of District 12 of the United Mine Workers. Illinois miners had been getting restless under Lewis' high-handed methods, so in retaliation he removed all District 12 officials without even the pretense of a trial. Appointing his own stooges, he sent them to take over Springfield headquarters under an armed guard.

Despite this, the duly elected district officials refused to step down. A bitter struggle followed, with the courts finally ruling that Lewis had no right to interfere in the affairs of District 12.

Finally, in 1932, Lewis negotiated a new contract with the Illinois coal operators. In those days, however, miners did not accept Lewis' dictation without question. They voted on their contracts. And, in this case, they voted Lewis and his new contract down.

Lewis then ordered another ballot, and this time a set of ballots, stored all night at the Ridgely Farmers State Bank were taken out by two Lewis henchmen and destroyed. The henchmen alibied that they had been robbed.

Vandals dumped out 26 one-gallon jars of mustard at Pitt Stadium. It shouldn't happen to a dog.

Ice cream makers plan production of one billion gallons for U. S. in 1947. Just imagine how many times that will take care of "Daddy, can I have a cone?"

Most of the complaints over who was elected will come from folks who forgot to vote.

French borrowed "riding coat" from the English, they commonly mispronounced it "red-ing-gote." And in time they changed the spelling from "riding coat" to "redingote" in order to conform to their pronunciation.

So when the American "modom" pays a handsome price for the continental, exotic redingote, the dear girl is actually buying a riding coat with a French accent.

It's hard to believe, but it's true.

MILLIONS FOR LIQUOR—A news item from Lansing the other day revealed that Michigan residents spent $11,222,111 for liquor during the month of October, an increase of about four million dollars over the same month one year ago. The figures were reported by the Associated Press from information presented by the state liquor control commission.

In another story on the same page the liquor control commission reported that the state's share of the take in liquor traffic was $1,049,732 for the same month. This was an increase of about $300,000 over the month of October one year ago. The state begins its fiscal year July 1, and for the months of July, August, September and October the state had received a total of $4,013,894 in liquor revenue.

SCREAMING FOR HELP—In Escanaba a few weeks ago we were in the Delta county jail talking with the officers. There was no news that day, they said.

Upstairs in one of the cells a woman screamed—screamed again and again. "Help! Help!"

The officer went upstairs two steps at a time and we followed. The key clanged against metal, grated in the lock and the door was opened. A woman sat on one of the cell bunks, her hands at her throat. The hands shook like leaves in the wind, and her eyes were wide and staring. "I tried to kill myself," she said. "See—see my throat—am I going to die?"

There was a tiny scratch below her chin, dug there by her sharp nails.

"You'll be all right," said the officer. "Take it easy, we'll give you something to fix you up."

"I don't want to die," said the woman. "Give me a cigarette," she sobbed.

Downstairs the officer opened a filing cabinet, took out a bottle containing a dark-brownish thick liquid—a mixture prescribed by local doctors for such cases—and poured some into an enamel cup.

"She's been drunk for a week," said the officer disgustedly as he started back up the stairs. "When they get too bad they always wind up here."

EATING AND DRINKING—It was circuit court week. Most of the criminal cases had been disposed of, but there was a late case coming up. An Escanaba man charged with failure to support his family was to be arraigned.

"I hope you give that case a good story in the paper," said the welfare official. "We've had trouble with him for years. He could earn quite a good salary in these times, but when he does work he drinks up every cent he makes. That means that his family must receive relief if they are to eat. A story in the newspaper would help straighten out some of the other cases we have like that."

The man charged with non-support was arraigned. Because he had a long history of such conduct behind him, and because he had been placed on probation before, he was sentenced to state branch prison in Marquette. His family, of course, is now on welfare all the time.

ALL MY FAULT!—Two Escanaba policemen half led half carried the young woman into the station. Her face was disfigured

Q. What is meant by the expression disability "aggravated" in service?

A. It refers to a disability which existed PRIOR to service, but became worse because of the service.

Q. I am a World War II veteran who now is receiving service-connected disability pension. If I marry, would my wife be entitled to benefits in the event of my death.

A. Yes, but under present law your marriage must take place within ten years after the termination of hostilities.

Q. Who was Kosciuszko?

A. A Polish patriot, who led an unsuccessful revolt against the Russians and Prussians in 1794. He had won his spurs as an adjutant to Washington in the American Revolution.

Q. What is a tetrahedron?

A. A solid whose surface consists of four triangles. A pyramid is a tetrahedron if its base is triangular.

Q. Who is the present Speaker of the House of Representatives?

A. Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Q. Who was John Alexander Dowrie?

A. The religious fanatic who imagined himself to be Elijah the prophet and founded Zion City near Chicago.

Q. In what situation is ventilation perfect?

A. In the open air, because the breath, as it leaves, the body, is warmer and lighter than the surrounding fresh air, and ascending is immediately replaced by an ingress of fresh air ready to be received by the next respiration.

Q. What church has the largest membership in the United States?

A. The Roman Catholic church, 18,600,000 members in 1926. All the various Baptist bodies combined, came next with 8,500,000.

the man who drank up his pay, and let his family receive welfare, the woman whose drunken spree ended in a doctor's office—they all need help.

The state of Utah has a psychiatric mobile clinic. Some states have special staffs for the treatment of alcoholics in state institutions.

The state of Michigan, which last month received over $1,000,000 in revenue from the liquor traffic, does nothing for the alcoholics. Science knows that chronic alcoholism is a disease and must be treated as such. Some of Michigan's liquor millions might go to alleviate the body-destroying, soul-shattering ruin that is a by-product of its liquor industry.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Organized labor is walking right up to the loaded gun of the incoming Congress, with what seems to be a deliberate and calculated desire to commit suicide.

It is not merely the John L. Lewis defiance of government, of contract, of everything. In a hundred and one ways, the reckless irresponsibility seems to grow rather than diminish.

Out in St. Louis the other day, 198 members of the AFL International Union of Operating Engineers walked off the job when the Union Electric Co. refused to penalize a member who was being disciplined by the local union. The company took the position that its contract with the union did not require it to lay off the recalcitrant member for 15 days, as the union had demanded.

—CITY'S POWER CUTOFF—

Thereupon the operators walked out. For five hours the city's power was cut to a fraction of normal. Industrial machines were stopped, stores were closed. Newspapers ordinarily in sympathy with the objectives of unions denounced this wanton act which endangered the life of a busy metropolis.

Out on the West Coast, a relief ship for Alaska has been held up for three weeks while the union quibbled over what officers and engineers were to man it. The relief ship was vital to keep the ordinary functions of life continuing in our northern territory.

Through most of the summer and the fall, the West Coast shipping strike has held up all shipments to Alaska. That has meant an end to present plans for development of that region, with its rich potentialities. It has meant an end to the hopes of many former GI's who had looked to Alaska for a chance to do a little contemporary pioneering.

The way in which Lewis' feud with the government is shaping up suggests a pattern for the coming year that is full of danger. You cannot compel men to work either by a piece of paper with legal writing on it or by a gun. If irresponsibility goes as far as defiance of the government of the United States, then we are in for a bad time.

—CONGRESS WILL RETALIATE—

A kind of law diminishing returns is at work here. The more reckless labor is, the more harsh will be the legislation that congress passes. The more drastic the legislation, the more chance there is that it will be defied by labor.

What such defiance can mean is anybody's guess. It can mean violence of a sort and on a scale utterly alien to this country. The potentialities are so ominous that they should sober even the most headstrong and heedless elements in the labor movement. They should give pause to all but those who can profit from breakdown and chaos.

You can argue, of course, that Lewis is a very special case. It is hard to find any reason in his latest acts. One of his longtime admirers and associates recently expressed the opinion that Lewis is "sicker than some people think."

When the government signed a contract with the miners on May 29, granting benefits that Lewis had long sought, such as the health and welfare fund, Lewis himself hailed it as one of the greatest achievements in union history. Now we find him denouncing government operation as a "Farce."

—END OF APPEASEMENT?—

There is, perhaps, a parallel here with the course of the dictators in the '30s. Time and again, Hitler got what he wanted. Yet it was never enough. As we learned to our everlasting sorrow, appeasement was of no avail.

Lewis seems to be asking for reprisals. He seems to want the cloak of martyrdom. Dealing with a man of his type is all but impossible. That is why the position of the government is so very difficult.

The coal crisis has a terrible irony. Lewis regards himself as a disciple of free enterprise and the American way of life. Yet if he had been hired directly by Stalin to undermine the capitalist system and the security of the western world, he would be doing just what he is doing. In Europe and the United States, production is so desperately needed—production and production and more production.

There is no better way to stop production than by a coal strike. Coal users, both private and industrial, are making every effort to change to other fuels, but coal is still the heart of industry. And John L. Lewis is proving once again that he can shut off the life blood of our system.

An open safety pin was removed from the lung of a Wilmington, Calif., 3-month-old girl. A real pin-up baby!

With The Deer Hunters

Walter Wickert shot a 10-point buck, weighing 175 pounds, at LaBranche Wednesday morning, two hours after he left his home with his son-in-law, Paul Snyder. They saw a large bear walking across the road on the way home, but it disappeared in the woods before they were able to stop the car.

William C. Wickham of Houghton Lake got a 190-pound buck and a large black bear while hunting on his property at Garth Shores, near Rapid River.

Hunters looking for deer in the South Ford River area are Glen, Ed and Mildred Vose, and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Bergeon of Saginaw. Glen filled his license early Friday morning with a buck weighing 200 pounds. The others bagged their deer in the early morning, except Mr. and Mrs. Bergeon who are still searching the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cramer of Muskegon are hunting in the South Ford River area.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nolden, 1207 Eighth Avenue south, were camping near Mashek with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wyatt and Harry and Charles Klingert of Detroit. Mr. Nolden shot a 10-point buck Sunday.

Harvey Rassmussen of Gladstone shot a buck Wednesday morning.

Art Natilo, 908 Seventh Ave. S., bagged a nice spike buck on the opening morning of the present season. The kill was a thrill as it followed 13 lean years of hunting without success. Mr. and Mrs. Natilo were hunting on the Stonington peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Miller of Brampton each filled a license with Mrs. Miller connecting first, at eight o'clock on the morning of the fifth day of the season when she downed a 13 point buck. Mr. Miller killed a spike buck at 9:15 a. m. on the sixth day of the season. They were hunting from their camp near McFarland. Hunting has been good in that area.

Carl and Parke Sawyer, Al Baker and Ray Ferring have returned from the Sawyer camp with four bucks.

Frank Falkies, of Cornell, filled his license with a big buck, shot near his farm on the second day of the season.

Joe Gregory, 612 S. Ninth street, downed a big 10 point buck, weighing 200 pounds, on the second day of the hunting season. The deer was killed near Hels.

Other lucky hunters early in the season in South Ford River were Gilbert and Bill Couillard, Irving Anderson, Billy Williams, Daniel Wellman and Arthur E. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Address of Chicago arrived Sunday to do some hunting in the South Ford River woods.

Walter Solis, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Solis, Gladstone, Rt. 1, shot a 12 point, 200 pound buck near Boney Falls yesterday while walking to work in the woods with his brother, John, Jr.

Dewey Meunier, 1417 First avenue south, filled his license on the opening day while hunting near his camp near Northland. The buck weighed 150 pounds.

ORE SHIPPING ENDS NOV. 30

Boat Cargoes Booked To End Of Month In Escanaba

The ore shipping season will wind up at the end of this month, when insurance on lake carriers runs out, it was indicated yesterday.

The Chicago and North Western ore docks here reported that boats are scheduled until the end of the month but no cargoes are slated after Nov. 30. Eleven boats are scheduled at the present time and several other bookings are anticipated before Dec. 1.

There has been virtually no difficulty encountered thus far this fall in the handling of frozen ore, a condition that generally is particularly troublesome in November.

School News

The students of Germfask school are organizing plans for a contest to sell Christmas seals, received from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to their friends and parents, Mae E. Hult, teacher, announced.

The students are eager to get started with the contest because it will help continue the fight against tuberculosis.

This is the 40th year Christmas seals have been sold. The money raised from seal sales will be used to finance the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's state-wide program of health education for children and adults, case-finding, rehabilitation of the tuberculosis, and research.

By means of such a program it is hoped that eventually Michigan will be entirely free of this disease which annually kills 2,000 American children under ten years of age.

State health reports reveal that although the tuberculosis death rate has been cut 68 per cent since 1907, the disease claimed 1,758 Michigan lives.

YULE SHOPPING SEASON OPENS

Christmas Decorations
Erected On Ludington Street

City workmen erected the Christmas lighting decorations on Ludington street yesterday and the annual Christmas shopping season will open today in Escanaba's retail establishments, John Fawcett, chairman of the retail committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

All of the local stores have installed Christmas displays and are showing 1946 stocks of Christmas goods, including the widest assortment of toys since pre-war days. An ambitious Christmas advertising program has been developed by the retail committee with a liberal use of newspaper, magazine and other media of advertising. Eighteen billboards directing attention to the Christmas shopping center in Escanaba have been erected, including four "Welcome to Escanaba" signs strategically located in the city. "Shop in Escanaba" signs have also been erected in Wells, Ford River, Hermansville, Gladstone, Rapid River, Trenary, Thompson, Isabella, Rock, Sagola, Norway, Niagara, Florence and Crystal Falls.

The holiday street decorations include strings of colored lights and evergreens connecting street lamps on opposite sides of Ludington street, through the entire business area.

Christmas Club

Checks To Total
$147,500 In City

Christmas club checks will be mailed by Escanaba's three banks on Saturday, Nov. 30, it was announced yesterday. The checks will total $147,500.

Throughout the nation, $635,000,000 will be distributed to 8,360,000 members of Christmas clubs during National Prosperity Week, beginning Monday, Nov. 25. This represents a 15.7 per cent increase and an all-time high for the 36 years of the club's operation.

According to a national survey, 32 per cent of the savings will be used for Christmas purchases and a like percentage will become permanent savings. Twelve per cent will be used to pay insurance premiums, 10 per cent for taxes and seven per cent each for debt retirements and payment of year-end bills.

Railroad Agent

Takes First Ride
On Peninsula 400

Crystal Falls—Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Rochon of Crystal Falls took their first ride on the Peninsula 400 streamliner a week ago Sunday and are satisfied the train is all the North Western railway claims it to be.

The trip to Green Bay and back was quite an experience for Mr. Rochon. Crystal Falls agent for the railway. He had never seen a 400-type streamliner before, except in pictures. He had always traveled on the night sleeper train before, and for the first time saw what the right-of-way between Powers and Green Bay looks like in the daytime.

This story would indicate that the Rochons lead a provincial life, rarely venturing beyond the confines of the county. But they are widely traveled, having recent trips to Mexico City, California, and the Lower Peninsula to their credit.

"We just hadn't gotten around to the 400 train in our front yard," Mrs. Rochon says, "and now we know how much we were missing."

The Rochons came to Iron county 32 years ago.

Mrs. Andrew Ehn Is Dead In Flint

Mrs. Andrew Ehn, 81, a former resident of Ishpeming, died at her home in Flint Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Ehn was the mother of Mrs. William Hewlett of Kalamazoo, former Escanaba resident. She was also the aunt of Rev. Karl J. Hammar of this city.

BAKE THESE ROLLS in 1/2 THE TIME
OCCIDENT'S NEW SPEEDIE METHOD

INGREDIENTS

6 1/2 cups OCCIDENT Family Flour
2 cups lukewarm water (87° F.)
1/2 cup sugar
2 cakes compressed yeast
1 tablespoon salt
2 eggs
1/2 cup shortening

Baking results you'll be proud of every time! Fragrant, tender, wonderfully delicious rolls are so easy to make this new SPEEDIE way. Success assured for beginners and experienced bakers... but only when you use OCCIDENT.

HERE'S THE NEW SPEEDIE WAY TO MAKE THESE CLOVERLEAF ROLLS

1. Place water, sugar and yeast in mixing bowl. Add salt and 2 cups sifted flour. Beat with electric mixer or rotary beater 2 minutes. Add eggs and melted and cooled shortening. Beat 1 minute.

2. Gradually add 4 1/2 cups flour. Stir until dough is formed. Let dough "rest" in bowl 20 minutes. No kneading!

3. Mix 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon with 2 tablespoons sugar. Roll 1/2 of dough to 1-inch thickness on floured bread board. With a 2 1/2 inch floured cutter, cut dough into rounds. Divide each round into 3 parts and shape into balls. Brush each ball lightly with melted shortening. Roll each ball of dough in sugar mixture and place 3 balls in each greased muffin cup.

4. Cover, let rise in a warm place (about 85°) for 40 minutes. Bake 18-20 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375°). Quantity: 18 rolls.

Bridge League To Meet This Evening

BY L. W. OLSON

A very fine crowd of players attended the last meeting of the Delta Bridge League. The hands were all of the really tough variety where defensive bidding played a very important part. It was a battle all evening where a difference of ten points in your score could make a big difference in your match point score on the board.

While the scoring was taking place, after play had concluded for the evening, all the players stood around discussing the hands and from their comments they certainly enjoyed the hands.

The final scores were very close with as few as nine match points separating first place from twelfth place. The final standings of those over 50 per cent for the session were:

1. Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Howe 56.72.
2. Cheever Buckbee Sr. and Cheever Buckbee Jr. 56.08.
3. Mrs. L. P. Tribler and Mrs. F. J. Earle 55.55.
4. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Needham 54.92.
5. Mr. R. Newman and Mrs. W. J. Clark 54.12.
6. Mrs. J. L. Temby and Mrs. L. W. Olson 53.76.
7. Mrs. C. W. Murdoch and Mrs. G. E. Dehlin 53.10.
- 8-9. Mrs. J. Kress and Mrs. F. McGraw 52.91.
- 8-9. Mrs. J. Shipman and Mrs. A. Kraus 52.91.
10. Mrs. R. E. Hodson and Mrs. F. Hoyer 51.16.
11. Mrs. W. Shepeck and Mrs. J. E. Byrnes 50.92.
12. Miss M. Sampson and Mrs. E. Christie 50.00.

With our deer hunters back in town we expect a very large turnout for this evening's session. Play will start promptly at 8 p. m. and will be held as usual in the Elks lodge room. New players are urged to come and play this week, we will do all we can to make your evening an enjoyable one.

Rankins Observe 50th Anniversary
Marquette—Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rankin, 225 East Arch street, were guests of honor at a turkey dinner for 13 members of the immediate families in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rankin, 910 Pine street, at 6 o'clock Monday evening.

The centerpiece for the table was a two-tiered cake with golden icing and gold candles.

The dinner was followed by a reception, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock held in the Rankin residence on Arch street, where the rooms were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, the gift of friends.

In the dining room, streamers of white and gold radiated from the corners of the room to the light fixture above the table. The centerpiece decor was a grouping of golden chrysanthemums and glass candleabra with gold candles.

Mrs. Leonard Yelle and Mrs. C. D. Rankin served the anniversary wedding cake, the gift of the couple's daughter-in-law, and the punch.

The couple received numerous gifts, greeting cards and a purse of money.

Mrs. Rankin wore a sequin-trimmed black crepe dress and corsage of yellow roses and white pompon mums, and Mr. Rankin, a pompon mum boutonniere.

Mrs. Rankin, who is 75 years old, was born in Escanaba and moved here with her family when she was a child. Her husband, also was born in Marquette and has lived here continuously.

The couple were married in the house which they still occupy at 225 East Arch street. Witnesses at the ceremony were Jack Herlich and Dave Donaldson. Mr. Rankin was employed by the Duluth South Shore & Atlantic Railway Co., and retired four years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin have one son, C. D. Rankin; two grandchildren, Mrs. Leonard Yelle and Jimmy Rankin, and one great grandson, Randy Yelle.

The only out-of-town guest was Joseph McDonald, Detroit.

Natural Lip Line
Is Wisest Choice

Sometimes a girl's attempt to carry lipstick over the lip boundaries, in a heroic effort to make a new mouth for herself, is a mistake. The error is not so much one of faulty as of impracticable design. Self-made outlines turn out to be impracticable because porous or fuzzy skin won't hold them.

If yours won't—the best way to find out is close-seeing in a magnifying mirror—it's better to pass up the alterations and leave your mouth be.

You can, however, always paint on a younger and happier expression by adding a little rouge to the corners of your upper lip.

The confirmation class of the Evangelical Covenant church will meet on Saturday morning at 9.

Bethany Bible Study
Bible study of the Bethany Ev. church will be held at the Ford River Mill school at 7:30 tonight.

Near East Circle
The Near East Circle will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Baldwin, 912 Fifth avenue south. The assistant hostess will be Mrs. Edward Erickson.

Missionaries to Speak
Brigadier and Mrs. E. Brandt, who spent seven years in China and 21 years in the Dutch East Indies, will describe their missionary experiences at a public meeting to be held at the Salvation Army temple this evening. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Sunnyside P. T. A.
The regular business meeting of the Sunnyside Parent-Teacher association was held at the school Tuesday evening.

An interesting program was presented. There was group singing and the Mothersingers sang, "Old Folks at Home." Mrs. John Barr gave a report on the PTA convention held at Sault Ste. Marie last spring, and also gave a monologue, entitled "My First Vote."

Mr. McKindles spoke on "Promotions." Fred Derocher and Leslie Good, school board members, discussed the coming election for the raising of money for a sinking fund. Mrs. Ebrath Peterson read a poem, "Thanksgiving."

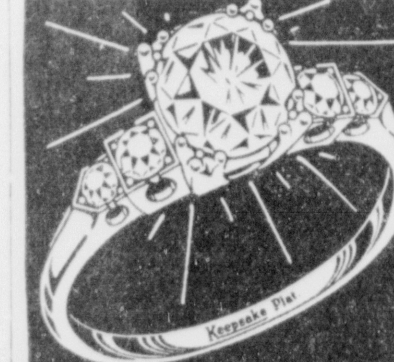

The lunch committee was composed of Mrs. Joseph Madalinski, Mrs. William Lavigne, Mrs. Chester Mroczkowski, Mrs. Ray Heim, Mrs. Mary Myers and Mrs. Rudolph Dahlberg.

Guild Rummage Sale
The St. Stephen's Guild will sponsor a rummage sale to be held this morning at 9 in the basement of St. Stephen's church.

An eighth of an inch of bolting over the boundaries with your lipstick at the corners will do the trick. Because the muscles and fleshy areas of the upper lip conceal all but the effect of adding color, this is really a safe trick to use.

While we're on the subject of lip make-up—a job that deserves all the devotion you're willing to give—don't leave a pale pink rim around the boundaries of your mouth when you rouge it. This failure to coat the line of demarcation between skin and tissue is usually not detected by you but it is by other people. The best way to cover the pink rim is with a lipstick brush.

Lavina Fenske And
Willard J. Hansen
Exchange Vows

Dressed in a white satin brocade gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and wearing a fingertip veil gathered into a tiara, Lavina Marvella Fenske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fenske, 1115 Second Avenue south, became the bride of Willard James Hansen, son of Mr. Peter Hansen, 820 South 14th street, in a double ring ceremony at the Central Methodist church. Rev. Karl J. Hammar performed the ceremony, at which the bride was given in marriage by Hugo A. Fenske, her brother, at three o'clock on Nov. 17.

She carried a bouquet of red roses, white carnations, and white pompons and wore a three strand pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. The church was decorated with white candles while the musical setting was "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The maid of honor, Miss Ester Ecklund, wore a pale blue gown with a pink and white corsage. She wore blue flowers in her hair.

Wallace A. Bolm served as the best man.

The wedding dinner was served at the bride's home at 7:30 for twenty guests. The bride's mother wore a black dress and a corsage of American Beauties.

Both the bride and the bridegroom attended the Escanaba high school. They will make their home in Jansville, Wis.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Glendora Guindon and Mrs. Arthur Gist of Chicago and Mrs. Henry Ross of Detroit.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. James S. Rulcoski, Iron River Rt. 1, are the parents of twins, Katherine Ann and David James, born Thursday morning, Nov. 21. Mrs. Rulcoski is well known here, having often visited her aunt, Adrienne Tousignant. She is the former Celeste Adrienne Hill, R. N. The twins were born at Stambaugh general hospital. The Rulcoskis have another daughter, Mary Jo, age 4.

BIG JO'S THE FLOUR FOR ME—IT MAKES SUCH WONDERFUL BREAD AND CAKES

Try this marvelous Big Jo White Flour. It's the same wonderful Big Jo Flour that's been the favorite of so many good cooks for over 60 years. It's made from the very finest wheat—blended with all the skill that has made Big Jo so famous.

You'll get delicious white bread, wonderfully light and fluffy cakes, the tenderest pastry if you use Big Jo Flour. Get a bag from your grocer right away, and give your family baking they'll say is the best yet.

LAZY DAISY CAKE
2 cups sifted Big Jo Flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cup sugar
3 unbeaten eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter or shortening, melted
1 tsp. vanilla
Sift the four dry ingredients together 3 times.
Break eggs, add enough milk to them to make 1 1/2 cups and add to flour mixture with the butter and vanilla. Beat hard for 5 minutes. Pour into a waxed paper-lined 9-inch square loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven 35° F. for 35 minutes until cake tests done. Remove from oven and spread on the top.

ICING
1/4 cup melted butter
3 tablespoons cream
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup coconut
Combine butter, cream and brown sugar and blend. Spread on hot cake. Sprinkle with coconut and place in hot broiler for a few seconds until coconut is lightly browned.

Coupons that entitle you to aluminum ware are in every bag of Big Jo Flour.

Today's Recipes

Minced Meat With Venison

Grind in food grinder, three pounds of meat cooked and chopped fine, one half pound beef or venison suet and six pounds of apples, peeled and chopped.

Add one cup vinegar or syrup from spiced fruit.

Then add:

Two quarts of apple juice

1/4 cup lemon juice (or one lemon ground)

One cup orange juice (or two oranges ground)

One and one half cups of molasses

Three cups of sugar

1/2 cup citron (ground)

Three pounds of raisins seedless (ground)

Three pounds of currants

One cup fruit juice or jelly

Three teaspoons nutmeg

Three teaspoons cloves

Two teaspoons allspice

Four tablespoons cinnamon

Two tablespoons salt

Three quarts of water

Cook all the ingredients together for two hours, stirring often as the mixture has a tendency to stick to the kettle. Can and seal.

Delta County Mink Harvest This Fall May Exceed $500,000

YIELD IS ABOUT 15,000 PELTS

Fur Market Unsettled;
24 Ranchers In County

Delta county mink ranchers will pelt in the neighborhood of 15,000 animals during the pelting season now under way, a survey revealed. The total represents a substantial increase over previous years.

The pelting season opened more than a week ago and at least one rancher, Joe Whitney, near Wells, has completed the chore. Most of the ranchers in the county, 24 in all, however, are in the midst of the pelting season and will require another week or so to finish the job.

Delta County Ranchers

Delta county mink ranchers registered with the Department of Conservation are: Robert and Kenneth Sturdy, Rt. 1, Gladstone; Frank Wawicka, Wells; Joe L. Whitney, Wells; Clarence Mattson, Rt. 1, Gladstone; Andrew Christensen, Rt. 1, Escanaba; Gust Soderberg, 1409 Washington ave.; H. B. Markham, Bark River; Gunnar Mattson, Rt. 1, Gladstone; Frank and Julia Bender, Rt. 1, Gladstone; Wm. J. Schmit, Jr., Ford River Road; Fred Costell, Fox.

Roy E. Cartwright, Rt. 1, Gladstone; L. G. Smith-Smith Brothers, Rt. 1, Gladstone; Jack R. Whitney, Escanaba Mink and Fur Ranch, Rt. 1, Escanaba; Ehnerd Hansen, Rt. 1, Escanaba; Gordon Boomer, Rt. 1, Escanaba; B. R. Erickson-Erickson Brothers, Bark River; Edward Erickson, Bark River; Irving Herman, Rt. 1, Rock; Simon P. Sayon, Rt. 1, Escanaba; H. J. Yelland and Lency Clairmont, Pine Grove Fur Farm, Wells; Martin Krokstad, Rt. 1, Escanaba; F. W. Andrew, Delta Silver Fox Ranch, Rt. 1, Gladstone; and Roy W. Schmit, Ford River Road, Escanaba.

Although the fur market is somewhat unsettled at the present time and has dropped sharply from the all-time high of last July, it is expected that standard quality black mink pelts will sell for nearly $30. This is a figure comparable to the market price last season. Mutations, of which Delta county ranchers have produced a larger percentage than in any previous season, will continue to bring premium prices.

Worth Half Million

Most popular mutation mink are the silver platitudes, black cross and whites, all of which are being produced in some quantity by Delta county breeders. Most Delta county ranchers are primarily interested in building up their breeding stock of the valuable mutation mink and are pelting only those animals that have poor production records. However, the number of silver platinum mink being pelted in the county this season is considerably in excess of previous years.

IT'S PELTING TIME—One of the newcomers to the expanding mink ranching business in Delta county is the Pine Grove Mink Ranch, operated by Harland Yelland and Lency Clairmont near Wells. John Williams, resident manager, is shown here pelting one of the black mink. About 300 mink were harvested by the company this year.

Despite the uncertainty of fur market conditions, it is estimated that the value of mink pelts harvested by Delta county ranchers this season may be in excess of a half million dollars.

The unsettled condition of the fur market is reflected in the unusual lack of activity here by out-of-town fur buyers. In past seasons out of town buyers swarmed in the area during the pelting season and bid briskly for the local years, it is a condition that resulted from the fact that the majority of ranchers retained a larger number of breeders this season than in previous years. In general, the production average was somewhat decreased from previous years although there were some exceptions in individual ranches. Most of the ranchers reported that weather conditions were not satisfactory for the best yield this year.

The number of breeders being carried over for next year is expected to be at least as large as last season, probably larger in view of the increased number of ranchers entering the business. In the case of mutation mink, the number of breeders being carried over will be considerably in excess of past years.

By far the largest mink ranch in the county is the Escanaba Mink and Fur Ranch, near Ford River, operated by Jack Whitney. This ranch is expected to pelt nearly 6,000 animals this season.

William St. Arnold, Railroad Man, Dies

Iron Mountain—William St. Arnold, 60, of Kaukauna, Wis., former Iron Mountain resident, died suddenly at Kaukauna, after he was found lying in the North Western railroad yards, where he was employed as a switchman, according to word received by relatives here. He lived at 425 Whitney street, Kaukauna.

Found by fellow workmen, apparently unconscious, St. Arnold was taken in an ambulance to St. Elizabeth hospital.

Born Nov. 29, 1885, in Iron Mountain he had been employed by the North Western for 35 years moving to Kaukauna six years ago. He was a member of the Iron

DEER HUNTERS WELCOME COLD

Tracking Snow May Aid
Those Who Have Not Yet Shot Bucks

The forecast of cold weather will be good news for all deer hunters, but there will be mixed feelings over the advent of snow—although it may help some unsuccessful hunters get their buck before the season ends.

Temperatures so far in central Upper Peninsula have been above normal and many hunters have had to place their deer in cold storage while they waited for others in the party to get their bucks. A warm season means the risk of venison spoiling before it can be gotten home by downstate or outstate hunters.

In the eastern Upper Peninsula there has been some tracking snow, with a trace of snow in the western U. P., but in the central area any snow that fell has disappeared from the ground by noon.

Hunters generally view tracking snow with mixed feelings. About 50 per cent of the nimrods prefer bare ground for their hunting efforts, while the other half declare that conditions are ideal when there are a few inches of snow on the ground. According to weather forecasts the latter group may be happy before the day is over.

Too violent snow storms, of course, are likely to trap hunting parties and their cars far back in the woods on trail roads. A few years ago hunters were marooned for several days when drifts blocked back roads.

LEAGUE FORMEDT. H. Reque Is Named
Chairman, List
Schedule

T. H. Reque was appointed chairman of the first City Dartball League which has been organized among some of the Manistique churches and city employees. Clarence W. Peterson was appointed president and Cecil Moore, secretary-treasurer.

The committee has held several meetings and announced the following teams have been entered in the league: Bethel Baptist, two teams, with Leonard Larson and Bob Oberg as captains; Zion Lutheran, two teams, with Vern Ekstrom and Victor Carlson as captains; Presbyterian, one team, Cecil Moore as captain; and the city firemen with John Bloomquist as captain.

The first series of games will start Dec. 2nd and finish Jan. 14. Second series starts Jan. 20 and finishes Feb. 18. Final series start Feb. 24 and end March 25. Each evening of play will consist of three games, batting averages and hits recorded for each player, standings on batting averages to be published three times, after each team has made a complete round.

A fee of 10c will be collected by each captain from every man for each evening he plays. This money is to be used for operating expenses of the league and for a social gathering to finish the season in March. All games will begin at 8 p. m. It will be the duty of the captains of each team to keep scores, hits, runs batted in, etc. To be eligible for the final social gathering, each player has to attend seven games or more during the playing season.

The public is invited to attend any of the games being played in any of the churches or at the firehall. If any other churches or organizations desire to enter the league after the first round has been played, they may contact any member of the committee. It is hoped that next season of playing two leagues could be formed, an American and National league if interest this season proves a success.

The schedule of play has been announced as follows:

MERCHANT DIES
ON THURSDAYDave A. Yalomstein, 68,
Found Dead At Home
Yesterday

Dave A. Yalomstein, 68 years old, president of the People's store of Manistique, died of a heart attack between 9:00 and 9:30 a. m. Thursday morning at his home, 120 Maple avenue, while sitting in a chair reading the morning newspaper.

Mr. Yalomstein was born in Traverse City, Mich., March 21, 1878. He had been in the retail dry goods business all through his life and worked at St. Ignace for several years before coming to Manistique January 1, 1921.

He was active in the Manistique store until two years ago when he retired but held the position of president.

Unmarried, he is survived by two brothers, Louis of New York and Mose of Sault Ste. Marie, and the following sisters: the Misses Evelyn and Lena Yalomstein of Detroit; Mrs. L. J. Ruben of New York; Mrs. L. Winkelman and Mrs. L. Sallan, both of Detroit, and several nieces and nephews in Detroit, New York, California and Florida.

The body was prepared for burial at the Morton Funeral Home and will be shipped to Detroit for interment. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

The People's store in Manistique will be closed on Saturday, Nov. 23 in respect to the memory of Mr. Yalomstein, it was announced yesterday.

LOADED GUN
COSTS $50Judge Stephen's Court
In Busy Session
Wednesday

Judge W. G. Stephens of the Manistique city justice court tried a total of 13 game law cases in the past two days, eleven of which were tried on Wednesday, Nov. 20.

The highest fine was imposed on Floyd J. Elle of Detroit, who on Nov. 17 was arrested in Doyle township for having a loaded gun in his car. Increased fine, above the others meted out by the judge for the same charge, was due to the behavior with the arresting officer, Harold R. Peters, Judge Stephens said.

Other hunters charged with the same offense, having a loaded gun in their automobiles, were each fined $10 and costs of $8.50 which was paid. They were: Fred Bishop, Brannan Meyer and Howard Reber of Wisconsin, arrested in Inwood township; Merle Fitzpatrick of lower Michigan, arrested in Germfask township; William Curtis Union—The Curtis Young People's Union will meet at the schoolhouse at 7:30 Friday night.

Farewell Party—A farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. William Harvey will be held at the Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian, at 8 o'clock this evening. All members of the church and friends of the Harveys are invited to attend.

Saunders, M. S. Johnson and Stanley Cioft, arrested in Inwood township; and Raymond Cline and Delmer Woodworth, arrested in Seney township.

James A. Barden of lower Michigan was arrested in Hiawatha township for killing more than one male deer and fined $25 and costs of $8.50.

Edwin Radford and Eugene Drouillard of lower Michigan were arrested in Mueller township for making use of an artificial light while hunting and were fined $25 and costs of $8.50 each.

Some combat planes are now held together with glue instead of rivets, not because of metal shortages, but because it's stronger.

Rev. Harvey has accepted a pastorate at Milford, Mich., and will be leaving Manistique the week of November 25.

Correction—Mrs. William Brockman of 159 North Maple street, was the Manistique woman who killed a 170 pound six-point buck instead of the Mrs. Brockway announced in yesterday's Press.

Rebekah Meeting—The Agnes Rebekah Lodge No. 159 will hold their regular business meeting at the I. O. O. F. hall on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Nomination of officers will be held at this meeting and will be followed by a social evening. A large attendance is desired. Hostesses for this meeting will be Ethel Homer, Ada Mercure, Helen Cooper, Hilma Sellman, Helen Wilson and Julia Schmidt.

GOOD NEWS FOR SCOUTS

Board Of Examiners To Be Set Up For Merit Badge Tests

Munising—Munising Scouts, who in the past have had some difficulty in advancing through the ranks of scouting due to lack of qualified examiners for merit badge tests, will be given a better opportunity to take the tests in the near future, it has been announced.

Willard Hildebrand, member of the Munising Scout Council, and an Eagle Scout of his boyhood troop in Saginaw, Michigan, who has been an enthusiastic scout booster in Munising for some time, has started to set-up a Board of Examiners for Merit Badge Tests.

He has been contacting persons qualified in the work required to be passed by the scouts, and has given them pamphlets which explain the numerous tests and work which must be given to the individual scout before he can advance to the next higher rank.

The Lions Club of Munising, it was reported, donated two copies of each Merit Badge Pamphlet to the Scout Council. Mr. Hildebrand has placed one copy of each in the school library and has retained the second copy for issuing to the examiner assigned for each Merit Badge Test.

It is requested that the examiner return his copy to the school library when he has completed his study of it.

Subjects and examiners already assigned are as follows:

Subjects for which examiners have not yet been appointed are as follows: airplane structure, basketry, camping, cement work, cycling, first aid, leathercraft, leathercraft work, masonry, personal health, public health, and life saving.

Former Flyer Speaks To Rotes About Navy Duty

Munising—Keith Clement, of Shingleton, spoke to the Munising Rotarians at a meeting held in the basement of the Presbyterian church Tuesday noon.

Mr. Clement, who was a Navy air corps officer during the past war, explained the how and why of plane landings on aircraft carriers and illustrated his talk with blackboard drawings and models of planes and carriers.

He also discussed the pilots' training schedule and explained signals used by the landing officer on board the carrier.

Mr. Clement had considerable flying experience during his service to the country and had also been a landing signal officer while on duty with the Navy.

THIEVES BUSY STEALING GUNS

Police Report Weapons Being Stolen From Parked Cars

Munising—Chief of Police, Frank Chase, advised hunters yesterday, that the practice of leaving guns in parked cars overnight is apt to lead to stealing of the weapons.

Two Munising hunters and five out-of-town hunters have reported guns stolen from their cars the past few days, the chief said. Despite the fact that the automobiles were locked at the time the guns were stolen, the thieves managed to gain access to them by prying open a window of the car.

The two Munising men who had weapons stolen from their automobiles were: Jacob Siltala, missing a 98 Mauser; and Henry Archambeau, missing a 38.55 Winchester, the police said. It was reported that the guns were stolen sometime around 10:00 p. m. November 19.

Four of the five out-of-town hunters' guns were stolen between the hours of 6:00 and 9:00 o'clock on the evening of November 12, the police department reported and the fifth gun was reported being stolen sometime during the evening of November 19.

ARMY AND IRISH PLAYOFF URGED

Los Angeles Invites Teams For Charity
Tiff In December

Los Angeles, Nov. 21 (AP)—Army and Notre Dame may possibly play off their recent scoreless tie in a charity football game in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum Dec. 22 or 23.

Army authorities have promised to give a decision on participation "within 48 hours," and Notre Dame, although long committed to a policy against post-season games, indicated late today it would be guided by Army's decision.

The council voted today to invite Notre Dame and Army to play here Dec. 22 or 23, with the $400,000 proceeds to go to charity after guarantees to the two schools, whose teams battled to a scoreless tie recently.

City Councilman Harold Harby said he talked to Maj. Gen. Maxwell Taylor of West Point, who, Harby said, was "very receptive" to a bid for the Cadets to play here, and that he would give an answer within two days. Army, it is understood, has received several bowl offers.

Later today, Harby talked to Rev. John Cavanaugh of Notre Dame, who told him, he said, that although the Fighting Irish are committed against post-season contests, they would be favorably disposed to reconsider this year, dependent upon whatever decision Army reaches. Father Cavanaugh also promised an answer in 48 hours.

Hermansville Plays Stephenson Tonight

Coach Paul DeBen will send his Hermansville Redskins against the Stephenson high school cagers, at Stephenson, on Friday evening.

DeBen's cagers after their defeat from Vulcan, appear to be in the best of their minds. All week he has been drilling his squad to correct last week's mistakes and to smooth out his offense.

DeBen hasn't decided on his line-up for that game, though Charles Koehn has won a starting berth at forward as a reward for his play against Vulcan and Doran appears set at one guard position. William Sutherland, guard, is nursing a sore back and may not play against Stephenson.

Very little is known about Stephenson, though they had a great season last year.

George Ruwisch and Leo Schram of Escanaba will officiate the game.

Bill DeCorrevont of the Detroit Lions booted a ball 81 yards from scrimmage this year.

Rapid River and Eben high school teams will clash at Trenary tonight, with both reserves and first teams going into action.

Best La Brucherie's Uclans undoubtedly will receive their stiffest test of the season from the steadily-improving Trojans. Both teams appear ready for peak performances. Probably muddy going, which may help the Trojans, is the only artistic impediment.

The all-winning Bruins bear out the old saw about a good offense being the best defense. They are the nation's top offensive team—409.9 yards per game.

More important, they have the champion's quick-striking power. Ernie Case's passing and half-dozen breakaway runners make UCLA a scoring threat from any part of the gridiron.

Offensively, the Trojans have been mostly stone-cold potatoes, but a late-season injection of short punt formation may add spark to the stultifying T. Mickey McCarrle and Gordon Gray, as a pass combination or running individually, can stir up a rumpus when right.

Coast Teams Irked By Slap At Cadets In Rose Bowl Pact

Los Angeles, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Big Nine conference put its Rose Bowl agreement to the Pacific Coast conference on a "take it or leave it" basis, Athletic Director Willis O. Hunter of the University of Southern California indicated today.

In a statement expressing regret over the turn-down of Army, Hunter said: "Representatives of the Big Nine stated they had no authority to make the arrangement effective other than for the game of Jan. 1, 1947, and that if postponement occurred, it would be necessary for them to return to the conference for further action, with considerable doubt as to the outcome."

Hunter declared that members of the Coast conference were sympathetic to representations of the University of Southern California Alumni Association's board of directors appointed a committee today to "survey the advisability of the Trojans withdrawing from the Pacific Coast conference."

The alumni directors expressed resentment of the coast conference's immediate tie-up with the Big Nine, commended USC representatives' stand for the Army, and suggested "it might be time to reorganize the conference."

The starting lineup for the Trojans is still uncertain, but the Alumni will have Nick Gersich and Stropich at forwards; Joran, center; O'Donnell and Houle, guards.

The Alumni squad has held several practice sessions, Coach Cliff Francis reported, and is sharpening its attack for the game with the Trojans.

DeBen hasn't decided on his line-up for that game, though Charles Koehn has won a starting berth at forward as a reward for his play against Vulcan and Doran appears set at one guard position. William Sutherland, guard, is nursing a sore back and may not play against Stephenson.

Very little is known about Stephenson, though they had a great season last year.

George Ruwisch and Leo Schram of Escanaba will officiate the game.

Bill DeCorrevont of the Detroit Lions booted a ball 81 yards from scrimmage this year.

Results this week included: Bank River-Harris 27, Daggett 6; Rapid River 33, Trenary 24.

SILVER FOXES OPEN SUNDAY

Hermansville Is Host
To Colored All-Americans

Coach Glenn Fleetwood will unveil his 1946-47 Hermansville Silver Foxes Sunday evening when his cagers take on the strong colored All Americans at the Community Club gymnasium in the opening game of the season for the local independent squad. The game is ticketed to start at 8 p. m.

The Silver Foxes, one of last year's most colorful and strongest independent teams in the Upper Peninsula have been drilling hard for the past three weeks and are near ready to take on the strong colored five Sunday night.

The Foxes received a big boost when two newcomers joined the squad in drills last week. Frank Miketina, a big 6 foot 2 inch guard, who played with Powers last season and husky Bruce Kelly of Faithorn who will supplement Tony Machalk at the center position. Kelly, a former Marine, was discharged from the service last spring. These two boys will give the Foxes added height and plenty of scoring punch. Other players who make up the Foxes are Leroy Floriano, former Hermansville high school star and who also starred in athletics at St. Norbert's, the Machalk twins, Steve and Mike, Reno Fochesato, Bruno Mauli, George Earle, John Tuscan and Tony Machalk.

Wilson, back from a Tuesday inter-conference confab at Berkeley, Calif., at which a five-year contract was drafted, made this explanation of the much-discussed pact.

In the final two years of the series, both conferences may select as the eastern bowl representative any team which adheres to athletic principles of both.

(This, Wilson said, could be a southern team, "if it is traveling under our rules." The new Rose Bowl setup previously was regarded by some as a slap at southern athletic standards.)

2. Pending ratification by both leagues, the Big Nine representative will have a 16-day practice session, and the Pacific Coast, which closes its regular season later, a 13-day drill for the bowl classic.

3. The 1947 Big Nine representative will be either Illinois or Michigan, depending upon the outcome of their finales against Northwestern and Ohio State respectively Saturday, and will be selected formally in a faculty representative poll next week.

Wilson said at a news conference that the Big Nine did not exert pressure to start the series this year, thereby shunting aside Army.

"Army would have been a fine bowl representative," declared Wilson, "but we long have had machinery started for the series, and had the Pacific Coast delayed it, we would have had to come back and tried to start things all over again next year, perhaps with less success."

"Don't forget the same picture might have developed next year," Wilson estimated that the Big Nine team, under the conference plan of bowl receipts disbursement, will receive between $25,000 and $30,000 of the usual $100,000 which goes to a bowl participant. The remainder will be divided among other conference teams and the Big Nine commissioner's office.

Andrew S. Baker, the athletic department's ticket manager, said telegrams, and even checks, have been arriving daily for the past month from fans desiring to see the Rose Bowl game.

Buddy also galloped as of yore in the opener against Pittsburgh with two touchdowns as the Illini won 23-7. In other Illinois triumphs over Purdue (43-7), Wisconsin (27-21) Iowa and Michigan, however, the squad negro speedster was just another player.

Yet no conference rival coach dismissed Young as a constant menace. Every team which faced Illinois had its defense especially geared to stop Buddy which it did at the cost of some other costly slip-ups.

The fine punting of Dwight Edelman, the well-balanced backfield performances of Perry Moss, former Tulsa passing star, Paul Patterson, Art Dufelmeier and Russ Steger and yeoman line play by Azase and Ends Zatkoff and Ike Owens, all have been unheralded factors in the Illini title march.

The practice schedule for the grade school basketball league Saturday at the high school gymnasium follows: 9 to 10:30—St. Joseph, St. Ann; 10:30-12:00—Franklin and Webster; 1:00-2:30—Jefferson and Washington; 2:30-3:30—Barr.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Escanaba Golden Gloves aspirants have just six weeks to get in tip-top shape for the opening matches at the Golden Gloves, which probably will be held Jan. 6 and 7. Working out three days a week, any lad starting from scratch can train down to excellent condition in time with the facilities available at the boxing training center located at the fairgrounds exhibition building. The lads who desire, of course, can train at the center any night of the week or any afternoon. The point is that it is better to start early and acquire as much experience as possible before the opening of the Golden Gloves matches.

Amateur boxers can take a valuable tip from Fred Saddy, Milwaukee trainer, who was a speaker at the boxing clinic here last month. Get in as much road work as you can to supplement the gymnasium training program. There is nothing better for leg development than road work—but don't run until you are all tuckered out. Learn to shift your weight quickly from one foot to another.

Following the sub-regional tournament at Manistiquie, there will be three weeks before the Upper Peninsula tournament opens at Escanaba. This period will give all qualifiers additional time to prepare for the finals and to heal any cuts or bruises that may develop in the sub-regionals. Incidentally, it will not be necessary to win a weight championship in the sub-regionals to qualify for the U. P. finals. In general, lads who win one bout will qualify for the Escanaba tournament. Other lads who make a particularly good showing in their opening bout, even though they may drop a close decision, may also be certified for the U. P. competition.

Tonight is a regular meeting night for Golden Glove boxers at the training center in the fairgrounds. Lads who are interested in entering the Manistiquie competition Jan. 6-7 are invited to report and get an early start on their training program. Boxers in Manistiquie, Marquette, Ironwood and Sault Ste. Marie are already started on similar training programs for sub-district tournaments in their areas. Houghton and Iron Mountain are expected to get under way shortly. The Escanaba committee will pay transportation and other expenses for all local boxers participating in the Manistiquie sub-regional Golden Gloves.

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Illinois, a courageous team without a "Sunday punch," can win the Big Nine championship and a coveted Rose Bowl bid by hurdling underdog Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., Saturday.

Victorious in five of six Western Conference starts, the Illini never have lived up to pre-season expectations and yet have lost only to Notre Dame (26-6) and Indiana (14-7) in eight starts this season.

With Buddy Young and half of Purdue's 1943 conference championship line back in harness, Illinois was mentioned in the same category with Notre Dame and Army as the season began. Five of the Illini played on Purdue's title-winning team as Marine trainees.

But to date, Young, who tallied 13 touchdowns as an Illini freshman in 1944, has crossed the goal line only three times and a potential powerhouse Illini attack has displayed pass interceptions as its chief weapons.

Keyed by Alex Agase, an inspiring guard, Illinois has fashioned its championship bid mainly through brilliant defensive play. In whipping powerful Michigan, 13-9, Illinois stopped the Wolverines four times within the 20-yard line.

The Illini, edging Iowa, 7-0, choked off five threatening Hawkeye drives, and three times stalled hard-running Ohio State in the shadow of its goal line, once after the Buckeyes made first down on Illinois' five, for a 16-7 victory.

Illinois' important decisions over Michigan and Ohio State were clinched by stolen passes. Ed Sam Zatkoff grabbing one to scuttle the Wolverines and Halfback Julie Rvkovich filching another for a 98-yard payoff prance to doom Ohio State.

The bottling up of Young, a sensation at Fleet City, Calif., last season, is one of the puzzles of the unpredictable Illini. Last Saturday, against Ohio State, Young briefly flashed his old form on a 34-yard pass gain which put the Illini on an eventual touchdown.

Buddy also galloped as of yore in the opener against Pittsburgh with two touchdowns as the Illini won 23-7. In other Illinois triumphs over Purdue (43-7), Wisconsin (27-21) Iowa and Michigan, however, the squad negro speedster was just another player.

Yet no conference rival coach dismissed Young as a constant menace. Every team which faced Illinois had its defense especially geared to stop Buddy which it did at the cost of some other costly slip-ups.
